" Vive la Evolution! "

"With Bluetooth built in – Mutants new head unit hits the road"

MT2200BT CD/MP3 Player with Bluetooth

The ever evolving Mutant brand has taken another step up the food chain with the emergence of the MT2200BT Bluetooth enabled RDS CD head unit.

The Bluetooth feature not only allows you to hook it up to your mobile phone, make and receive calls and chat to your mates safely and legally while you're at the wheel...

...it also gives you music streaming ability when paired to any A2DP equipped device - Forget those tinny sounding phone speakers - Pump out the tunes stored on yours or your mates mobile phones through your car audio system instead!

The stereo comes with an external hands free microphone in the box, it has a 4 x 40W power output, 30 RDS radio presets and comes with a remote control. It is MP3, WMA, CD, CD-R, and CD-RW compatible and has with a USB port and an MMC/SD card slot, allowing you to play your music from a variety of external sources and devices such as digital MP3 players and memory sticks.

On top of all this, the MT2200BT also lets you record directly from radio, MP3 or CD straight to an MMC/SD card or USB Memory stick!

If you're looking for style and versatility you've found it. MT2200BT is a feature packed head unit that typifies the Mutant brand – Dynamic, affordable car audio for the discerning ICE fan.
